Easter Service In Amphitheater

VOL. 68 NO. 1 THURSDAY, APRIL 11, 1963 CANYON, TEXAS 14 PAGES, IN 2 SECTIONS 10 CENTS

Janet Gerald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gerald, is shown here accepting the winner's bouquet and crown from Art Roberts, Lions Club president. Janet will go to Shamrock to try for the district title at the district Lions Club convention. Runners up were Joy Harter, left, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Dale Harter, and Iris Jean Hales, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe V. Hales. Janet's title is Lion's Club Queen.

Janet Gerald Named Lions Beauty Queen

The comely Miss, who currently is serving as Randall County Dairy Princess, was winner of the annual Lions Club Queen Contest. Placing the crown on her head was Art Roberts, Lions Club president.

The contest was held in the high school auditorium.

Miss Gerald will represent the Canyon club at the Lions Club district convention in Shamrock. The winner at Shamrock will represent the district at the state convention in May with the state winner to receive an expense paid trip to Florida.

Nineteen senior girls from Canyon High School were competing for the title which went to Miss Gerald. First runner up for the honor was Iris Jean Hales, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe V. Hales. Joy Harter was selected as the second runner up in the contest. Her parents are Rev. and Mrs. Dale Harter.

"Spring is Here" was the pageant theme. The girls wore formals and entered on a platform which was centered with a water fountain. As they descended the steps they were surrounded by four goddess statues. The stage was hung with oversized bird cages which were filled with yellow and orchid flowers.

Mrs. Clara Long helped prepare the girls on poise and was instrumental in the entry of each girl.

Judges were from the American Beauty Charm School in Amarillo.

Other girls competing for the honor were Patricia Barnett, Dinia Bond, Judy Bourland, Gloria Buchanan, Linda Brown, D. J. Crain, Kay Fain, Sharon Franklin, Dorothy Crabbe, Georgi Ann Holloway, Frances Siker, Elaine Loudder, Mary Nitengale, Marguerite Stephens, Mary Westfall, and Judy Wilson.

The West Texas State University stage band and several vocalists presented the entertainment for the show under the direction of Gerald Hemphill. Lee Boyd Montgomery and George Dowlen were also on the entertainment committee.

Bernard Warren was the general chairman for the pageant. Ticket sales were supervised by Bill York.

The decorations committee was headed by Bob Harty, and Col. W. H. Hobbs and Captain Aaron Dorough assisted. Oscar Hinger was the chairman of arrangements and committee members were Odell LaGrone and Wayland Angel.

Commissioners Session Light

Randall County Commissioners Monday authorized Sheriff L. S. "Slim" Johnston to advertise for bids for two new cars for his department.

Request for a pay raise for a tax office employee was denied.

In other business the court canvassed the county school trustee election returns and declared R. B. Gist Jr., and E. R. "Dutch" Cleavinger winners. They were incumbents running unopposed.

Woman's Address Sought

Lost -- a woman!

The whereabouts of Mrs. Bellmont Bourland Watson is a mystery.

Recently Mrs. Cristler Crain received a letter addressed to her father, deceased for 20 years, from the Southwest Life Insurance Company asking about Mrs. Watson.

Important mail had been returned to the company and no one seems to know of Mrs. Watson. Her husband was Frank Esper Watson.

Mrs. Crain doesn't know why her father was used as a reference for the woman and has no idea where they met. Possibly in Panhandle or Claude where her father lived at one time, or Mrs. Watson might have been a student at West Texas State College at the time.

Anyone with information may contact the Southwest Life Insurance Company or call Mrs. Crain at OL5-2711.

Thieves Raid Buffalo Lake

Auto parts thieves hit the Buffalo Lake area last week, according to Randall County Sheriff's Department files.

The department received a complaint from Curt Becker, a student at West Texas State University, that some one had removed all four wheels and tires from his pickup truck which had become stuck in the sand at the lake after a week end supper and fishing party with friends. Becker said they left the truck stuck in the sand overnight and returned the next day to find the wheels and tires gone.

Floyd Seymore of Rt. 2, Sudan, reported that someone had stolen an ice chest which was full of campfoods while he and his family were away from the camp at another part of the lake. He said a grey fishing tackle box full of tackle was also stolen at the time.

Randall County sheriff's deputies are investigating.

Apartment House In Prospect

Preparations for a $175,000 two-story apartment house are being completed in Canyon, according to Cristopher and Vaughan Real Estate of Canyon.

News of the pending apartment construction came Monday night at the regular Canyon city commission meeting when the real estate firm requested that the city close a north-south alley dividing the property on Thirteenth Avenue and between 24th and 25th Streets.

The real estate firm said most of the old north-south alleys in Canyon had been closed years ago, but this one had been left open, probably as an oversight.

The commission authorized the city manager and attorney to prepare an ordinace for the closing of the alley which lies in the south 1/2 of Block 88 in the Conner Addition.

The commission, also at the request of Christopher and Vaughan, authorized City Manager Bill York to see that Thirteenth Avenue be opened from 23rd Street to 25th Street.

The new apartment, which will be constructed in two separate buildings, will be owned and constructed by W. E. Glazner of Cheyenne Wells, Colorado.

In other action, the commission accepted the low bid of $17,713 from the Sid Patterson Company of Norman, Okla., for used Dempster Dumpster equipment to be used as a supplement for the city trash collection service in the city business areas. The system, which will enable the city to institute

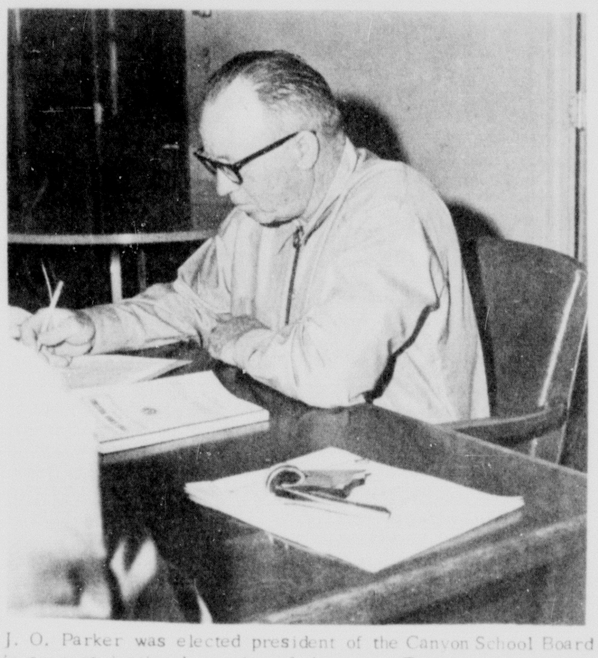
Crain, Graham Victors In School Board Vote, Wear Makes Unity Plea



J. O. Parker was elected president of the Canyon School Board in an organizational meeting of that group Tuesday night. Parker had served for the past year as vice-president. He succeeds Bob Wear.

J.O. Parker Named To Head Trustees

Walter Graham and Newton Crain swept to a landslide victory in the school board election here Saturday.

Bob Wear, defeated incumbent, Tuesday night sounded a call for community solidarity on school issues and admonished the board to keep the welfare of Canyon boys and girls always in mind in board decisions.

"Serving on this board has been a highlight of my life," Wear declared. "The school is bigger than I am or any one person. The school can get along very well without me.

"Above all else the welfare of boys and girls is important."

"I hope this board feels as I feel," said Wear declaring that he holds no ill will for things that happened in the recent trustee campaign. "Some things have been done and said that shouldn't have been done and said, but that is in the past."

Wear noted that he has been in politics 30 years. "You win some and you lose some," he declared. "I have no hard feelings. You have my best wishes."

In Saturday balloting Crain led the field of five candidates with 737 votes. Graham, who ran fifth in a field of six last year, was a close second with 712 votes. The nearest opponent was A. W. Lair with 351 votes.

Wear received 309 votes and JoZach Byrd received 228. A single write-in vote each was cast for Jerry LaGrone and Sam Dodson. LaGrone already is a member of the board with two years to run on his current term.

Crain and Graham replace Wear and Mrs. Clay Cooper on the board.

Aubrey Crossland, election judge, said 1182 persons voted--a record for Canyon. Of that number 1150 voted Saturday and 32 absentee ballots were cast.

The election climaxed a spirited campaign in which an organized effort was made to get out the vote.

Interest rose after the board of trustees recently did not renew a contract for School Superintendent Joe A. Gibson.

"I've been handling elections for a long time," observed Crossland, "and this is the most I've ever voted in one box."

The turnout was believed to

To Publish Delinquent Tax Notices

City Manager Bill York this week reminded Canyon people that a list of those delinquent in payment of city taxes will be published.

Publication of such a list is required by Canyon's charter. Publication will begin the latter part of April.

The charter requires that "said delinquent roll shall be published not later than 90 days after the end of the fiscal year or as soon as possible thereafter once each week for four consecutive weeks." Canyon's fiscal year ended March 31.

The city levies taxes both on real and personal property, York pointed out. Personal property includes automobiles and other motor vehicles as

Man Killed In Traffic Accident

One man was killed and two others critically injured Friday night in a one-car accident on South Washington Street just south of the Palo Duro Creek bridge.

Dead is Robert Lloyd Hudson, 19 years old, Amarillo Air Force Base airman.

Still in critical condition at Neblett Hospital in Canyon Wednesday were Bob Blas Martinez, 20 , and Charles Gene Taylor, 18, both of Amarillo. Both suffered head injuries.

Hudson was dead on arrival at the hospital. The injured were brought here to the hospital in a LaGrone ambulance.

Bob Rivers, investigating highway patrolman, said the car in which the three were riding was traveling north down a steep grade. The car hit a guard post on the right side of the road, crossed to the left side, climbed a steep embankment and overturned. The vehicle came to rest on its top about 150 yards from the original point of impact, Rivers reported.

Buffaloes Rip Alumni 45-15 In Spring Tilt

BY MIKE MOON

Hoot Gibson unleashed an awesome aerial display against the West Texas State Alumni football team last week at Buffalo Bowl to send the varsity sailing to a 45-15 win.

Second - team halfback David (Grasshopper) McInturff got the show on the road however, with an 82-yard run-back of the game-opening kick-off. The kick failed and the varsity kept on the alumni and ran up a comfortable 27-0 lead with six minutes remaining in the first half.

The alums, dating back to 1955's team, came back abruptly and within range 27-15 with 10:44 remaining in the game.

After the alums had scored their second touchdown and run the two-point conversion, Hoot Gibson sent a long pass into the arms of Jerry Richardson for a 58-yard scoring play.

Gibson, on the defensive, played heads-up ball and intercepted a Jim (Corky) Dawson aerial and promptly tossed another long pass to Richardson for 43-yards, only to have the play stopped seven yards short of the goal.

This failed to faze the varsity Buffaloes, however, as third-team fullback Ollie Ross came into the game and bulled his way the remaining yardage for the TD and then booted the conversion to up the Buffs' margin to 41-15 with 8:39 left to play.

Gibson proved to the sparse crowd of 2500 fans that WT is going to have a fairly balanced attack as "Hooter" accounted for more yards via the air lanes than the backs could on the ground.

The Odessa senior football player (next season) completed 8 of 17 passes to account for 189 yards to supplement West Texas's ground game which gobbled up 187 yards during the duration of the regularly-played grid game. The Buff backs accumulated 141 of those rushing yards in the first half before singeing the airways in the second half.

Another senior-to-be football player did his share of the work by racking up 109 yards rushing in 13 carries for an average of 8.4 yards per carry. This was Pistol Pete Pedro, the miniature workhorse of West Texas State University's coming grid powerhouse.

Two players off the 1962 Sun Bowl champion team, Corky Dawson and Jerry Logan, kept the alums in the running until their junior teammate of last season wrapped up the game. Dawson fared well in the passing department in completeing 7 of 16 passes for 99 yards.

Logan led the alums's rushing efforts with 43 yards in seven carries while Ned Jolly had 33 in five trips. Logan caught a 42-yard aerial from Dawson for a TD and then passed to Jolly from 23 yards out for another score.

As for the varsity's scoring, McInturff's TD required a mere nine seconds as he fielded Bob Petrich's kick-off and dashed to the end zone.

After the Buffs apparently had the alums in a hole, Logan put his toe to the ball and the pigskin traveled over 70 yards, lighting on the three yard line and bouncing into the end zone to be brought out to the WT 20.

Pedro was the main figure in the next Buff scoring drive which started on the 20 and took just 11 plays to reach its goal. Pistol Pete rambled for gains of 8, 17, and 18 yards and then Gibson tossed to his favorite target, Jerry Richardson, for another 15 yards to the 12.

Pedro added another yard and Gibson faked a handoff to the left side and rolled out around the right side of the line for a TD. Six minutes later, Gibson fired a bullet to end J. T. Kilpatrick in the end zone for the varsity's third TD of the first half.

The total scoring drive took a mere three plays and started from the alums's own 29 yard line after a fumble recovery by the varsity.

The alums punted and this time it was Pete's turn once again as he carried the ball 52 yards in two plays for a touchdown. The first play was a five-yard end sweep that didn't "sweep" out far enough. The second play was a double reverse with only one thwarted defender standing in Pedro's way. He scored on the 47-yard jaunt.

A&M Tourney Record Bested By WT Bowler

Ronnie Mullins, bowling for West Texas State, broke the 13-year-old record for high series while competing in the mammoth Texas A&M Intercollegiate Invitational Bowling Tournament at Texas A&M.

Mullins put together games of 237, 212, and 205 for his award-winning 654 scratch series. In addition to winning a trophy for his first place and record performance, Mullins captured second in the all-events phase of the meet and had the third high game.

The tournament was won by the host team, Texas A&M. The Aggies and LSU rolled right down to the final frame with A&M coming out on top by the slim margin of four pins.

The West texas State team failed to finish near the top despite the outstanding performance by Mullins. Other teams competing were Lamar Tech, Baylor, Rice, SMU, TCU, St. Mary's, San Antonio Junior College and Lyola University.

The next scheduled action for the WT keglers will be against Eastern New Mexico University Saturday, April 20 at the Canyon Bowl. Both men's and women's teams will compete. Coach of the keglers, Eddie Knowles, announced that he has been trying to schedule a match with Texas Tech but has been unable to make any progress to date.

West Texas State's rifle team recently lost two close matches to the Perryton Rifle Association in matches held at Pampa.

The first match was held March 28 and the score was as close an any have been all year. Perryton won 1509 to WT's 1507. Gary Balzer was high point maker for West Texas with 385 points of a possible 400.

In the second match, also held at Pampa--the halfway point between the two teams--Perryton widened the margin of victory to a still slim 1493 points to WT's 1408.

Only three contestants participated for WT with the low score having to be counted twice. High scorer once again was Gary Balzer with 383 points while Craig Hinger ran a close second with 379 points. Eugene Colgan ran last with his double-counting total of 323.

Velora and Ann Adair were hostesses for the party. Forty guests played games and enjoyed refreshments.

Mrs. Knighton Club Hostess

Mrs. Tom Knighton hosted the meeting of the Priscilla Club Wednesday of last week. The group visited and worked on their needlework pieces.

Refreshments of pie and coffee were served to Mesdames E. R. Cleavinger, Dewey Foster, R. A. Hodges, S. B. Loudder, Gladys Marshall, Dudley Moore, Sr., Hud Prichard, C. M. Presley, T. S. Stevenson, Sr., H. M. Stokes, E. D. Walker, J. M. Daugherty and one guest, Mrs. Mark L. Foster of Bellflower, California.

Rev. Adair To Speak In Oklahoma

Rev. Marcus Adair, pastor of Faith Chapel, will be guest speaker at a special pre-Easter service at Laverne, Oklahoma. The meeting will be held this evening.

Friday, Rev. Adair will speak at Midway Country Church in Logan, Oklahoma. He was the founder and builder of the church several years ago. The church serves a large rural area in the Oklahoma panhandle.

Special Easter services will be held at Faith Chapel on Sunday. The public is invited to attend the services.

Hungate Home Is Burglarized

The home of Harry Hungate southeast of Canyon, was burglarized Tuesday about 4:30 p.m.

Hungate reported the loss of two guns, a 22 caliber Winchester pump and a single-shot 16 gauge shot gun and a Hamilton automatic wrist watch from the house. He said the shot gun was in a red leather and brown canvas carrying case.

Randall County sheriff's deputies are investigating the case. The value of the stolen articles was placed at more than $220.

The sheriff's department is also investigating the destruction of private property on the C.C. Kellogg Farm, north of Canyon. Kellogg reported to sheriff's deputies that someone had shot a farm tractor full of holes while it was parked on one of his fields.

Investigating deputies found all four tires shot with a 22 caliber gun. The headlights and the radiator were also punctured by the shooting . Damage was placed at $250.00.

Mrs. Clay Elliott visited with her mother, Mrs. Addie Hefner on Monday evening.

Wayland President To Speak

A. Hope Owen, president of Wayland Baptist College, will speak at the First Baptist Church for the Easter morning services.

Dr. Owen has served as president of Wayland College for ten years, during this time the college has shown a growth in facilities. The Baptist General Convention of Texas is raising funds for eight Texas Baptist colleges and buildings are being planned for erection with the funds allocated to Wayland Baptist College.

Before taking the presidency at Wayland, Dr. Owen was pastor in New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas. He served a seven year pastorate at the First Baptist Church in Plainview.

Cakes Being Sold By FHA

German chocolate cakes are being sold by members of the Future Homemakers of America Chapter of Canyon High School. Several State Degree girls are making the cakes on their own time and selling them to defray expenses to the State FHA Meeting.

Homemaking II and III classes have been making the cakes as a class project with two girls from each unit making the cake and two preparing the frosting.

The recipe used was the one on the wraping of a bar of German chocolate. By taste-test evaluation the girls report the cakes are delicious.

Proceeds from the cake sale will be added to funds for the chapter next year.

Mrs. Clara Long is sponsor for the cake sale.

Canyon Woman's Brother Dies

George Lyne of Winniewood, Oklahoma, died Tuesday. He is a brother of Mrs. Cecil Bosley.

Mr. and Mrs. Bosley and their son, Ray, of Hereford will attend services at 2 P.M. today in Winniewood.

Mrs. W. E. Howse of Wichita, Kansas, arrived to visit with the Newton Howell family over the Easter holidays.

Mrs. Ples Harper, president of the foundation that built the theater, said the historical drama will be similar to the entertaining play "Oklahoma" except with deeper historical significance. Mrs. Harper predicts the show will be ready for presentation by early summer of 1964.

She said the script is now being written by author-historian-poet Paul Green, whose other nine outdoor dramas of American history have been seen by more than three million persons.

Issac Van Grove, the hollywood composer who has collaborated with Green on other productions, will write the music for the Panhandle production.

Sophomore students served the meal which was prepared by Bob Dowell Restaurant of Amarillo. Approximately 230 attended the banquet. Special guests of the evening were the faculty, school board and the class parents of the junior and senior classes.

Decorations at the dance featured an old southern mansion, with realistic effects provided by hanging Spanish moss and magnolia blossoms. A mural depicted a steamboat on the river and the setting for the dance was outdoors.

Leon Bagwell and Charlotte Brantley are sponsors of the junior class which hosted the banquet and dance. Senior sponsors are Betty Brown and Larry Roberts.

Chairmen for the preparation of the event were Wam Moore, entertainment; Carol Brown, food; Don Rhodes, favors; Pam Calder and Pamela Davis, decorations for the banquet; Jan Jennings and Rosemary Ennis, decorations for the dance; and Karen Erwin, chairman for invitations.

Before long we can welcome new residents to our area from Springfield, Massachusetts.

A Mr. Hood Spencer wrote the art department of WT to find out about the amount of native clay that could be found in the Wayside vicinity. He seemed to have heard about an old brick kiln somewhere in the region, too. His interest was in being able to make wheel thrown pottery out of the native clay to be found in Wayside.

It would have been possible to have sent samples of the clay to Massachusetts, but on March 9, an air mail letter came announcing the Spencer's plans to come to Texas in four to six weeks to see our Texas clay.

The excitement of their tremendous interest has been transferred to me. I am in wonder of these people who will come this long distance to find a type of clay that will give them more satisfaction in their clay work. This must be the result of many happy hours spent in something they truly enjoy.

These potters have demonstrated pottery at the Eastern States Exposition at the invitation of the State for two years. They have just completed an exhibition at the University of Massachusetts and are members of the Craftsmens Guild, Potters Guild, and the League of Arts and Crafts.

We should all look forward to meeting these "clay" pioneers that will soon be arriving from Massachusetts.

The Moslem Arts and Crafts School in Tripoli, Libya, will be on display through April 19 at the Van Howeling Library at Wayland Baptist College in Plainview, Texas.

The art works have been made by Moslem orphans. Some of the work is for sale and will go to support the needy orphanage which started its school in the 1890's.

The art work displayed exhibits their training in making metal products, leather goods, pottery, tiles, woven straw trays and containers, and embroidered slippers.

Six-Gun City Exudes Old Western Flavor

BY JIM THOMAS

East of Canyon on the Palo Duro Highway is a tourist oriented frontier town that is different from the usual false front affair.

Six Gun City, within sight of Palo Duro Canyon State Park, features all the usual attractions of a tourist type western town, plus accessibility to Timber Canyon which is as different from the prairie as night is from day.

Jimmy Sorenson, part-owner and builder of Six Gun City, says the aim of the builders is to provide a setting where visitors can get a view of what an old-time western town looks like and to enjoy the beauties of Timber Canyon as well.

Six Gun City comes complete with a Prairie Saloon, curio and concessions shop, sheriff's office, monthly newspaper office and corrals and livery stable with rent horses.

Built of steel and covered with wood, the Prairie Saloon is intended as a place where teenagers and visitors can get out and away from town and dance. The saloon will be finished this month, he said.

Although the walls of the building are just being completed, Sorenson said several groups have reserved the saloon for weekly dances.

A weekly Friday night Teenage Dance will be held in the new building which will accomodate up to 200 persons. Other dances include a Saturday night Amarillo Air Force Base Dance, a West Texas State University Dance on Wednesday nights and square dances on other nights.

Sorenson said the saloon will look like the old-timey western ones everyone is used to seeing on television, complete with a balcony and upstairs seating and an authentic bar. Soft drinks will be served at the bar and bar-b-que foods served to groups on special occasion.

Built with a concrete floor on the inside and an overhead door in one wall leading to an outside concrete floor, visitors can dance inside or outside the saloon on nights when the weather is good, Sorenson said.

The saloon will feature live music for dances with the addition of a juke box at other times. He said the building will be rented out to special groups for private parties and special affairs. In addition to the concessions and curio shop, Six Gun City will have an assay office for those interested in the Panhandle brand of rocks.

The sheriff's office (Sorenson is sheriff of Six Gun City) and the newspaper office will add to the attractions.

The paper office will feature reprints of authentic old western newspapers, complete with date, and other samples of western culuter such as WANTED posters with the picture of famous western outlaws printed over the name of the visitor.

A bank building will be built on one of the side streets. Staged gun fights between the sheriff and bank robbers will take place at numerous times during the day, according to Sorenson.

Sorenson said that in the near future, Six Gun City will also sport a new ten-room hotel done in the old western flavor with antique furnishings in the rooms and porcelain face bowls on the dressers. Two community restrooms and baths will be in the building. Home cooking for the guests.

A large lobby with a wood-burning fireplace will be for the visitor's comfort while they stay in the hotel.

For outside entertainment while visiting Six Gun City, Sorenson said there will numerous gun fights in the streets and in front of the bank as well as stage holdups by outlaws and Indians.

The Kachina Indian Dancers, who performed last year at Six Gun City, will again be featured in the Indian circle near the horse corrals.

Authentic Indian dances will be performed in daylight as well as by the light of a large camp fire for the visitors enjoyment.

Stage coach rides through parts of the city and along 3 miles of rim rock trails overlooking Timber Canyon will be for the visitors.

For the very young there will be kiddie and pony rides around parts of the more gentle slopes of Six Gun City. The back of the Livery stable is on a sheer cliff dropping off into the depths of Timber Canyon.

The livery stable now has some 40 horses, 20 of which are rent horses. More than 30 miles of horse trails have been built through the canyon which has been left as nearly natural and undisturbed as was possible.

For those who don't care for the horse riding bit, 4-wheel drive rides in an International Scout may be had into the depths of the canyon.

Sorenson made the somewhat dubious distinction of having the steepest road in the panhandle down into the canyon. Though smooth enough, only a 4-wheel drive vehicle could negotiate its steep slopes.

Once in the bottom of the steep sided canyon, several cabins come to view, complete with horse corrals and wood-burning stoves.

The larger one, which sleeps 8 to 10 persons, rents for $16.00 per night with transportation to and from the cabin furnished. The 4-wheel drive scout will take visitors to the cabin one day and pick them up the next.

A new twist is provided by Sorenson, who is willing to rent horses with the cabins for an extra charge. The visitors can then ride the horses down the trail to the cabins and come out of the canyon when they please.

The canyon itself is of wide interest. The winding scout road crosses the spring fed Timber creek 7 times.

Numerous wild plum and china berry trees interspersed with juniper, cottonwoods and hack berry trees offer plenty of shade and pleasant smells for the weary.

Sorenson says the city also plans to add six to eight more cabins in the canyon in the near future. He said they are beginning to be rented a week in advance as the word gets around about how nice the canyon is.

He said the group has also been approached on the possibilities of using the side of the city with all its buildings and equipment, as location for western movies to be shown on television.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bearden visited with his grandparents in Matador over the week end, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Bird.

Hilltop Views

Putting aside for this week my recollections of things that happened at W. T. during my days there I wish to notice some current developments that bear, in my opinion, great significance.

I have just heard today (as I write) that Governor Connally has signed the legislative bill which has changed the name of our college to West Texas State University. When first I heard that an effort would be made in that direction I did not believe it had a chance. I was remembering, of course, the number, variety, and power of the obstructions that have hindered this institution's development in years past, overlooking the amazing changes that have come about in the attitude of the public toward big spending since World War II. Both private and public expenditures have increased many times in less than twenty years.

I would not attempt here to enumerate all the causes of this very far-reaching change in our personal and institutional lives, but I would recommend that each one try to figure it out for himself, for it has vast significance for each and all of us.

But the point here is the amazing fact that the legislature and Governor have decided that Texas needs and can afford a university at Canyon. I am not sure, however, that all those boys down at Austin understand the difference between a college and a university. Some of them may be like the old rustic legislator that tried to line up on the side of the "high brows." The University of Texas wanted certain legislation passed and adopted the strategy of having a near illiterate member to sponsor the bill. At that particular time, the University and Jim Ferguson were fighting each other with bare knuckles, and of course Jim was against whatever The University wanted. When the country legislator introduced his bill Jim sent for him. "Look here, Joe," said Jim, "I don't believe you can afford to sponsor that University bill." "Why not?" asked Joe. "I'll tell you for a fact, Joe, that University is the rottenest place in Texas. Just as an illustration. The boys and girls use the same curriculums. You don't want to help that sort of outfit, do you?" "Gosh, No," said Joe, "I shore don't. I'll go right back downstairs and withdraw that bill. I shore don't want to have nuthin' to do with any such doin's."

Of course, the legislature like everything else has changed since Jim Ferguson's days. Let us believe that these Austin boys of today know what they are doing and will be willing to put up whatever amounts will be needed to make West Texas State a real university.

Another highly significant development that is in the mill with excellent prospects of reaching the statute books, is the proposed establishment here of a research center supported by private philanthropy. That project is a natural corallary to the change of name and will be helpful toward making W.T. a university in fact as well as in name. Inasmuch as medical research, if I am correctly informed, is to be a major function of this enterprise it would seem to fit perfectly into Amarillo's ambitious program of becoming an outstanding medical and health center.

Furthermore, it should stimulate and strengthen W. T.'s science departments. It could mean that West Texas State University in days ahead will become nationally known for its scientific research and its contribution to our fast-moving technological civilization. In fact, its possiblities are beyond calculation.

When the change to university status and the anticipated establishment of the Research Center shall both reach reality, as they should in the very near future, the prestige of West Texas State will rise to new heights. This should manifest itself in many ways. It is not unreasonable to expect an increased enrollment of 20 per cent this fall, provided housing facilities are adequate. It should soon become more easy for the administration to obtain highly qualified faculty members. Greatly improved and enlarged library and laboratory facilities should

FROM THE CANYON RIM

Canyon had a record turnout for the school board election last Saturday in which 1182 persons cast ballots.

The winners won by a landslide. We hope the big vote was evidence of growing interest in our school system.

All too often interest in the school is nil until there is some personal grievance or an issue of great magnitude is raised. School, especially in Canyon, is the community's biggest business.

More dollars are spent directly or indirectly on education in Canyon than on any other item. Yet, when the school budget hearing was held for the current budget, not a single person showed up to ask questions.

School board meetings are open to the public. We'll be there reporting what goes on but we think it would be a compliment to the board and the school system if patrons showed up now and then--not to make a request but just to show teachers and school board members that the community is interested.

As for the school board election and campaign, it's water under the bridge. Now it behooves us all to work together for good schools for our children.

Wayne Kelso and a group of Amarillo businessmen were here visiting us last week in behalf of the proposed Randall County airport.

Wayne says 500 signatures have been secured for a petition called for an airport bond election. He said about 850 names are required before the petition can be presented to commissioners court.

A poor boy airport would be a white elephant and we would strongly oppose any such arrangement. If we intend to build an airport that could be expanded into something to accommodate air liners, we'll support the proposition just as strongly.

The logical place for Amarillo's commercial air terminal is south of that city in Randall County. We could expect the air lines to come to our airport almost as soon as we could get it ready.

Amarillo folks tell us that air lines serving Amarillo are none too happy over sharing a field with the Air Force and from what we can learn the feeling is mutual.

The air lines would like to move and the Air Force is just praying for the day. So why not to a Randall County airport?

The tragic death last week of William Leo Cooper underscored the need for a centrally located airport in this area.

If such an airport had existed Tuesday of last week, Mr. Cooper would be alive today.

No better location could be found for an airport to serve this area than between here and Amarillo, west of the expr-

AMOUNT The profitable management of a modern farm takes the same kind of astute judgment as that required for any other business. The farmer is under the same pressure to get maximum return on his capital investment, raw materials and labor if he is to keep his farm profitable.

Most farmers are quick to realize that an unwise economy can be very expensive. No area of farming is more susceptible to unwise economy than that of fertilization. The investment in money and labor that goes into preparing a seed bed, planting, cultivating, irrigating and harvesting is great enough that the difference in the cost of doing a get-by job of fertilizing and doing an adequate job is negligible. But the difference in results, the dollar value of the harvest, can be 15, 20 or even 25 per cent. The only additional cost in applying enough fertilizer rather than nearly enough is the comparatively small cost of the fertilizer itself, yet it has a significant effect on the return from the whole farming operation including the big investment in the land.

Let's consider a hypothetical case:

If 100 lbs. of anhydrous ammonia per acre produces 5,000 lbs. of grain sorghum with a given level of crop management, we can safely say that an additional 50 lbs. of anhydrous ammonia will add 500 lbs. to the yield. At 6¾ cents per pound applied, the additional fertilizer costs $3.37. At $2.00 per hundred, the increase in yield is worth $10.00 or an increase in net profit of $6.62 per acre.

But what about wasting fertilizer? No one will question the fact that you can apply more fertilizer than the crop will use. There is a safety factor, however. Generally speaking, once the anhydrous ammonia goes into the ground, its nitrogen stays there until it is used by a plant. The nitrogen left over from this year's crop is there to aid in the decomposition of the residue and is still there at planting time next spring.

Your Nitromite dealer is ready now to put this profit maker to work in your fields. Call him right away. He has all the information on the Shamrock Farm Credit Plan.

SPECIAL NOTE TO CATTLE FEEDERS Nitrogen causes an increase in the protein content as well as an increase in yield of grain sorghum. Consequently, both the added protein and added yield must be taken into account in calculating the most profitable rates of nitrogen to apply.

Last week was a rough one for us. First off we misspelled accommodate in the spelling bee story. Terry Blasdel sent word that if we'd send her the picture we ran in the paper of her spelling she'd tell us how to spell accommodate. We sent the picture and here it is, a-c-c-o-m-m-o-d-a-t-e, accommodate.

Then we had the school board polls opening at 8 o'clock Saturday morning and closing at 7 o'clock Monday evening. We had a record vote but it really didn't take three days to get them all voted.

Red troops are mopping up Laos this week. This is the country we "neutralized" less than a year ago by forcing our friends into a "coalition" government with the communists.

The reds will own Laos shortly. Our friends there will receive their reward for standing up for freedom. They'll be stood up against a wall.

Try pouring a bottle of red ink into a glass of water sometime and you'll see how difficult it is to put communists into a government without turning the whole government red.

Ancient Mammoth Bones Unearthed By WT Group

BY JIM THOMAS

Remains of several prehistoric mammoths were unearthed Saturday on the Flying L Ranch, 20 miles east of Silverton by Jack Hughes, curator of paleontology at Panhandle Plains Museum in cooperation with Dr. George Agogino, professor of anthropology at Baylor University.

Hughes and Dr. Agogino, with the assistance of 9 paleontology students from West Texas State University and several students from Baylor University, exposed the remains after digging seven test pits in the side of a cutbank on a tributary to the Little Red River in Palo Duro Canyon. A Clovis spear point had been found in the area some years earlier, according to Hughes.

Mammoth remains were removed from two of the seven test holes and returned to the museum where they will be preserved and studied by paleontology students at the school. Remains consisted of several rib bones measuring more than three feet in length and several sections of the mammoth's backbone, each of which was more than a foot in length.

The remains of other smaller animals, possibly that of prehistoric horses, were found intermingled with the mammoth skeletons.

Although the remains of buried mammoths and horses are fairly common in the Panhandle, the location of mammoth remains in association with arrow and spear points is not too common.

Hughes said the main purpose in the Saturday expedition was to determine whether the mammoth remains had any flint arrow or spear points associated with them, especially Clovis points.

Since the mammoth died out in the Panhandle some 10,000 to 12,000 years ago, the location of the Clovis type spear points with the skeletons would clearly indicate the presence of early man in the Panhandle.

One of the test pits that was between several of the skeletal remains and on the same level, proved to be an old trash pit producing broken bits of burnt rocks that had been used in Indian fire places, flint chips and a number of artifacts including a large barbed dart point, several blank arrow points, some hammer stones and flint hide scrappers, a metate piece, once used to grind meal on and several buffalo teeth fragments--but no clovis points.

Flint chips were also found in and among the bones of the buried mammoths, at least indicating the possibility of their having been killed by early man in Texas.

The earliest skeletal remains in Texas are thought to be those of "Midland Minnie," a small female Indian found near Midland, Texas, and thought to be more than several thousand years old.

The oldest cultural remains of early man in the Southwest are several spear points found at a gravel pit near Clovis, New Mexico, several years ago. These points, which are unique in design, were found mixed in with several mammoth skeletons in the pit. Bulldozers, scrapping up gravel, later destroyed the bones and the site.

More mammoth bones with a Clovis point were recently found near Miami, Texas, indicating the presence of early man in that part of the state at least 10,000 years ago.

Since that time, Clovis points associated with mammoth kills have turned up in a number of places in Arizona and in the Valley of Old Mexico near Mexico City.

New finds of mammoth bones in the original Clovis gravel pits have hastened the search for Clovis type points that could be associated with the mammoth remains.

Hughes points out that even though the group removed several portions of the mammoth skeleton, the expedition results were indefinite. He said more work needs to be done on the site before it can be proved or disproved as a Clovis type mammoth kill.

WT Prof Will Be Speaker At Convention

Tom Depperschmidt, assistant professor of Economics at West Texas State University, will be one of three featured speakers in the Labor Economics section of the Annual Convention of the Southwestern Social Science Association in San Antonio to be held April 11-13.

Prof. Depperschmidt's paper deals with the precedent-shattering decision of the 84th State District court in the circumstances growing out of the strike of Local 351 of the International Union of Operating Engineers against Phillips Petroleum Co., at Borger in May 1958. The decision, rendered in December 1961, is still being processed in the state courts.

The paper of Prof. Depperschmidt recounts the developments in the strike, the legal issues involved, and the potential impact of the decision on future internal union affairs.

The Southwestern Social Science Association is an organization devoted to fostering research and general promotion of the Social Sciences as an academic discipline. Membership is concentrated in the college teaching profession in a seven state South-Midwest area.

Building Is Steady Here

E. A. Collie, building inspector for the city of Canyon said Monday that the total March construction permits in Canyon came to something over $93500 which is about the same or a little above the same period last year.

Construction of a new W shaped apartment at 2611 6th Avenue accounts for most of the building for this month, Collie said. He added that the difference was made up of small repairs and additions to existing buildings in town.

come along more rapidly, the recruitment of athletes will become less of a problem, the institution will make wider and stronger appeal to top-level high school graduates, and no doubt more teachers and others will seek graduate degrees at W.T.

In conclusion I extend to President Cornette and associates my warmest congratulations on these outstanding achievements. Such plums do not fall of their own weight or by accident into college laps. There is a tremendous lot of spade work behind these achievements--vision, wisdom, diplomacy, patience, energy, determination, courage, and the ability to interpret the educational needs of an area larger than some of the states of this republic.

Let me say, too, that the people of Canyon and Randall County and of Amarillo and all Northwest Texas have increased responsibility for the future development of the only state university in West Texas.

Moore Gives Report On Outdoor Theater Meet

William A. Moore of the West Texas State University Drama Department, recently attended an Outdoor Theater Conference held at Chapel Hill, North Carolina. Moore made a report to the Panhandle Heritage Foundation on the conference at its March meeting.

Moore said the recent establishment of the Outdoor Drama Department has been received enthusiastically by drama groups from across the nation who are interested in producing historical dramas depicting the history of their own regions.

He said the questions most often asked by drama delegations attending the conference were how other groups produced outdoor dramas, how to find a playwright, how to design an outdoor theater and how to prepare a budget.

Moore reported that members of a drama group from Oklahoma, who plan a drama on the Cherokee Indians removal to the Indian Territory, for the Carolina Playmakers, plan to visit Canyon soon to examine methods and progress of the Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation and the Palo Duro Canyon amphitheater.

Moore said he represented the Panhandle Heritage Foundation at the conference and reported on the progress and organization of the Palo Duro Canyon historic drama production. Photos were presented to the group showing progress of the amphitheater.

The last of the seminars at the conference was entitled "Management and Promotion" and was moderated by John W. Parker, business manager for the Carolina Playmakers. Parker has visited Palo Duro Canyon with Paul Green, the playwright who has taken on the writing of the historical Panhandle drama.

Week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Downing were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Yarbrough of Ibaraki Christian College in Japan, and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Wilcox of Arvada, Colorado.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Green recently have been his mother, Mrs. J. L. Green, from Sudan, and Joe Aguilar and daughter, Tracy, of Lubbock.

"Sacred Head, Once Wounded" will be presented by Mrs. Lee Foster, church organist, to introduce the Lord's Supper.

Rev. John Lars Hamerson will give a table talk entitled, "The Master's Tools--A Seeking Student."

Mrs. W. R. Wilson will direct the Westminster Choir as they sing "Softly and Tenderly" and sing the responses at the service.

"The Master's Men--A Forgiving Brother" will be given by John Lars Hamerson as the sermon for the evening. This traditional service, emphasizing the Crucifixion, concludes with the Easter motif. It is designed for families as an aid in teaching the meaning of the Crucifixion and the Resurrection through a simple drama.

Easter Anthems will be presented by the Junior Choir, directed by Mrs. Sidney Burgess; and the Senior Choir, directed by Royal Brantley at the 11 a.m. services on Easter Sunday.

"The Power of His Resurrection" will be the sermon for Easter Sunday services at the First Presbyterian Church, according to John Lars Hamerson pastor.

Mailing Rules Are Listed By Postmaster

Canyon Postmaster Marion Higdon said Monday that wedding shower invitations that are printed, mimeographed, duplicated or otherwise entirely reproduced by machine process may be mailed in unsealed envelopes--or in sealed envelopes labled THIRD CLASS and mailed at the third class rate of four cents each.

Higdon said, however, that if pertinent information such as the time, date and place of the shower is written on the cards in hand printing, hand writing or type writing, the first class rate of postage must then be applied, regardless of whether the envelopes are sealed or unsealed.

He said the same regulations apply to wedding announcements, reception announcements, birth announcements and other similar printed items on which additional information is sometimes entered.

Higdon said anyone desiring additional information on postal regulations should call the Canyon Post Office at OL 5-2507.
